PS racing signs Finnish Champ Elias Niskanen for Asian Formula Renault series

The 18 year old Finnish Formula Ford Champion from Kuopio Finland will join to Finnish squad based in China to battle for 2019 Asian Formula Renault championship title. Fresh Finnish Formula Ford champion Niskanen will jump into Formula Renault 2.0 and despite the speed difference of the cars Niskanen showed great performance during winter testing. Elias is feeling good in and off the car even while serving for Finnish army during 2019 season.

Elias comment his signing with PS racing:

"I am extremely happy to race with PS racing in Asian Formula Renault series. This is necessary step for me to do in my career to jump to next level. We are looking this move to be a good for our long-term plan and I know PS racing will be able to support me to do that. I am also going to join army this year so it will be important me to find way to prepare myself best possible way to all tests and races."

PS racing's AFR Team Principal, Pekka Saarinen, added:

team. We were testing last year in Sepang after 2018 season and we saw a lot potential on Elias, and we are very happy to get him into our team. Last time we had Finnish racer we took both titles and I know even while Elias is doing his military service for the country he is going to come even better prepared for the races."

Asian Formula Renault season is set to star on March 24th at Zhuhai International Circuit.
